rises retracting the garrote into his watch. He looks up to see approaching followed by the other men.

MORZENY

GRANT

stands at attention as Morzeny reaches him holding a watch.

MORZENY

(to Grant)

Exactly one minute, fifty-two seconds. That's excellent.
BOND

lies motionless on the ground. Morzeny's hand reaches down and pulls a mask off his face, revealing an UNIDENTIFIED MAN who has been disguised as Bond. TILT UP to reveal Morzeny and Grant walking away toward the house.

PULL BACK to reveal KRONSTEEN ('No. 5') and MACADAMS sitting across from each other at a chess table, the 1st and 2nd UMPIRES, an ATTENDANT and SPECTATORS. Kronsteen smokes a cigarette and flicks an ash into an ashtray.

moves his white knight and takes Macadam's black bishop, setting it beside many other black pieces.

Check.

Kronsteen clicks a timer.

OVER KRONSTEEN'S SHOULDER

Macadams looks thoughtfully at the board.

1ST UMPIRE
Knight takes bishop.

The Attendant moves a corresponding white piece on the scoreboard.

ATTENDANT

EXTREME WIDE ANGLE

The spectators look on murmuring. A WAITER approaches the table with a tray containing two glasses.

CLOSER

The waiter sets a glass in front of Macadams then turns to Kronsteen and puts a glass of water and a mat in front of him.

STILL CLOSER

Kronsteen stares at the waiter, whose hand still grips the glass. The hand backs away and Kronsteen picks up the glass and the mat. He starts to drink then looks through the glass. We hear the clock still ticking.

KRONSTEEN'S POV - THE GLASS AND MAT

Seen through the bottom of the glass on the mat are the words:

AT ONCE.'

KRONSTEEN

sets the glass down and dabs the mat against his lips. Meanwhile Macadams looks at the chessboard. Kronsteen tears up the mat.

Macadams moves a black chess piece and clicks the timer.

The Attendant moves a corresponding black piece.

Macadams tips over his king onto the table.

My congratulations, sir. A brilliant coup.

Macadams holds out his hand as the spectators applaud. Kronsteen rises and shakes it.
HIGH ANGLE - CRANE SHOT

Kronsteen releases Macadams' hand and, as we CRANE DOWN, walks away from the table. A SPECTATOR reaches out to give him a handshake but Kronsteen ignores him and keeps walking.

DISSOLVE TO:

EXT. BLOFELD'S ('NO. 1') YACHT - WIDE ANGLE - DAY

The yacht rests in a bay.

EXT. BLOFELD'S CABIN - SAME TIME

A GUARD with a machine gun over his shoulder comes downstairs, Kronsteen following and looking around. The guard rings a doorbell to Blofeld's cabin. Kronsteen looks back and sees a SECOND ARMED GUARD coming down the stairs.

INT. BLOFELD'S CABIN - SAME TIME

ROSA KLEB is looking into a desktop aquarium. She moves backwards looking down at it.

   BLOFELD (O.S.)
   Siamese fighting fish. Fascinating creatures. Brave, but on the whole, stupid.

KLEB'S POV - THE AQUARIUM

Three fish swim in it.

   BLOFELD (O.S.)
   Yes, they're stupid.

CLOSE SHOT - BLOFELD'S LAP

A white cat rests in his lap and he pets it.

   BLOFELD (O.S.)
   Except for the occasional one such as we have here...

CLOSE SHOT - AQUARIUM

The fish swim around each other and then, in quick cuts, fight each other.

   BLOFELD (O.S.)
   ...who lets the other two fight while he waits... waits until the survivor is so exhausted that he cannot defend himself.
KLEB watches the aquarium.

CLOSE SHOT - AQUARIUM
The fish continue to fight.

    BLOFELD (O.S.)
    And then, like SPECTRE, he strikes.

CLOSE-UP - KLEB

    KLEB
    I find the parallel -- amusing.

CLOSE SHOT - BLOFELD'S CAT
Blofeld handles the cat.

    BLOFELD (O.S.)
    Our organization did not arrange for you to come over from the Russians...

ANGLE ON KLEB OVER BLOFELD

    BLOFELD
    (continuing)
    ...just for amusement, Number Three.

CLOSE SHOT - CONSOLE

[END OF REEL 1. START REEL 2.]

BLOFELD'S POV - KLEB

stands in f.g. as a door behind her opens and Kronsteen enters.

    BLOFELD
    Come in, Kronsteen. Sit down, Number Three...

CLOSE SHOT - BLOFELD'S CAT
He continues to stroke it.

    BLOFELD
    ... while we listen to what Number Five has devised for us.
CLOSE-UP - KLEB

KLEB
I hope Kronsteen's efforts as Director of Planning will continue to be as successful as his chess.

CLOSE-UP - KRONSTEEN

KRONSTEEN
They will be. According to your instructions, I have planned for SPECTRE to steal from the Russians their new Lektor decoding machine. For this we need the services of a female member of the Russian cryptograph section in Turkey and — uh — the help of the British Secret Service.

CLOSE-UP - KLEB

Listening, she looks up at Kronsteen.

KRONSTEEN (O.S.)
(continuing)
Naturally, neither the Russians nor the British will be aware...

CLOSE-UP - BLOFELD'S CAT

He continues to pet it.

KRONSTEEN (O.S.)
(continuing)
...that they are now working for us.

BLOFELD (O.S.)
Number Three, is your section ready to carry out Kronsteen's directives?

CLOSE-UP - KLEB

KLEB
Yes, Number One. The operation will be organized according to Kronsteen's plan. I have selected a suitable girl from the Russian Consulate in Istanbul. She's capable, cooperative, and her loyalty to the State is beyond question.
WIDE ANGLE OVER BLOFELD AT KLEB AND KRONSTEEN

And you're absolutely sure she believes you're still...

CLOSE-UP - BLOFELD'S CAT
He continues to stroke it.

BLOFELD (continuing)
... head of operations for Soviet Intelligence?

CLOSE-UP - KLEB

KLEB
It is most unlikely she would know I'm now working for SPECTRE. Moscow has kept my defection secret from everyone but a few members of the Presidium.

CLOSE SHOT - BLOFELD'S CAT
As he stroke it:

BLOFELD
For your sake, I hope so.

BLOFELD'S POV - KLEB AND KRONSTEEN

BLOFELD (O.S.)
Kronsteen, you're sure this plan is foolproof?

KRONSTEEN
(tapping a cigarette against its case)
Yes, it is, because I have anticipated every possible variation of counter-move.

CLOSE SHOT - BLOFELD'S CAT
As he strokes it:

BLOFELD
But what makes you think that 'M,' the head of British intelligence, will oblige you by falling in with your plan?
CLOSE-UP - KRONSTEEN

KRONSTEEN
For the simple reason that it is so obviously a trap.
(he starts to put the cigarette into his mouth then lowers it)
My reading of the British mentality is that they always treat a trap as a challenge. And in any case, they couldn't possibly pass up even the slightest chance of getting their hands on a Lektor decoder. They have wanted one for years.

CLOSE SHOT - BLOFELD'S CAT

As he strokes it:

BLOFELD (O.S.)
Um-hmm. All that you say could be true. What else?

CLOSE-UP - KRONSTEEN

KRONSTEEN
As an added refinement, I think that SPECTRE would probably have the added chance of a personal revenge for the killing of our operative, Doctor No. Because the man the British will almost certainly use on a mission of this sort would be their agent, James Bond.

ANGLE OVER BLOFELD AT KLEB AND KRONSTEEN

BLOFELD
Let his death be a particularly unpleasant and humiliating one.

KRONSTEEN
Good. I shall put my plan into operation straightaway.

KLEB
looks at Kronsteen.
KRONSTEEN

And there will be no failure.

CUT TO:

EXT. LAKE - MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT - GRANT

Naked but for shorts, he lies face-down on a towel on grass. He glances up.

A FEMALE MASSEUSE

in a skirt approaches.

GRANT

closes his eyes.

MEDIUM SHOT - GRANT AND MASSEUSE

She sets a bag down then turns away and unbuttons and removes her shirt, revealing large breasts in a bra. She pulls down her skirt, revealing shorts, and turns toward Grant.

She kneels, picks up a container of ointment then looks up.

hovers overhead.

MEDIUM SHOT

The masseuse massages Grant's back.

THE HELICOPTER

lands in front of SPECTRE House.

CLOSER ANGLE

Morzeny and other SPECTRE men, including RHODA, approach the helicopter as it lands.

MORZENY

Hurry.

Kleb emerges from the chopper.

MORZENY

(to Kleb)

Welcome to SPECTRE Island. A great honour. I hope you had a pleasant flight.
CLOSER - MORZENY AND KLEB

KLEB
My time is limited. Is the man I requested ready?

Morzeny hands her a file.

His dossier.

KLEB
Good.

Kleb look at the file.

KLEB
Donald Grant, convicted murderer. Escaped Dartmoor Prison in nineteen sixty. Recruited in Tangier nineteen sixty-two. Excellent! Where is he now?

Rhoda turns to Morzeny.

RHODA
At the Lake.

MORZENY
Bring him to my office, will you?

Morzeny touches Kleb's elbow as if to escort her; she backs away repulsed.

KLEB
Take me to the Lake.

MORZENY
(pointing)
Through the training area.

MOVING SHOT

Kleb, Morzeny and Rhoda walk across the grounds.

MORZENY
This Grant's one of the best men we've ever had. Homicidal paranoiac, superb material. Though his methods were a little crude, his response to our training and indoctrination have been remarkable.
EXT. KILLING SCHOOL - MOVING SHOT

Kleb, Morzeny and Rhoda walk along a series of galleries where men fire at targets. Other men in judo garb break cinder blocks in f.g. In another gallery, a man fires a flamethrower at a running man. Two men fight with knives. In yet another gallery, men practice judo.

MORZENY
I hope our work here meets with your approval?

KLEB
Training is useful, but there is no substitute for experience.

MORZENY
I agree. We use live targets as well.

WIDE ANGLE

Kleb, Morzeny and Rhoda walk away as the mayhem continues.

DISSOLVE TO:

EXT. LAKE

The threesome approach around a grove of trees and turn to face the Lake.

Grant reclines on his back as the masseuse works on one of his arms. A trampoline and barbell lay nearby. The masseuse looks up at the visitors.

Kleb takes a step forward.

Call him.

MORZENY
Grant!

Grant jumps to his feet and stands attention. Kleb looks at him then removes her purse from her shoulder.

Grant walks up to the visitors. He stops in front of Kleb and stands at attention. Kleb circles him, looking him over. As she does, she puts on a knuckle duster.

When Kleb arrives in front of Grant again she suddenly punches him hard in the stomach. He barely flinches.
KLEB
He seems fit enough. Have him report to me in Istanbul in twenty-four hours.

Kleb immediately turns and walks off, Morzeny and Rhoda

DISSOLVE TO:

EXT. ISTANBUL - ESTABLISHING SHOT - DAY
Minarets in f.g., a mosque and the Bospherous beyond.

EXT. RUSSIAN EMBASSY - DAY

CCCP USSR
CONSULATE GENERAL

A PORTER holds open a wrought-iron gate and three embassy women emerge onto the sidewalk -- a striking blonde, TATIANA ROMANOVA (known as TANIA), and her friends IRINA and NATASHA.
Tania holds a piece of paper.

IRINA
(in Russian)
Are you sure you don't want to come with us?

TANIA
(in Russian)
I have some shopping to do.

NATASHA
(in Russian)
We'll see you later as the hostel.

IRINA
(in Russian)
Don't be late. Goodbye for now.

TANIA
(in Russian)
Goodbye for now.

NATASHA
(in Russian)
Goodbye for now.

Irina and Natasha walk away. Tania turns, looking at the piece of paper, and walks off.

EXT. STREET - KLEB'S HOTEL - DAY

Tania walks up a cobblestone path to a policeman and shows him the piece of paper.

TANIA
(in Turkish)
Can you show me this house?

The policeman points further up the path.

POLICEMAN

Tania continues up the narrowing path toward the hotel, which looks more like a sinister tenement.

THROUGH AN ARCHWAY

Tania approaches the hotel, stops, looks at the paper again, looks around, then turns up a flight of stairs.

ON THE STAIRS - MOVING SHOT

Tania continues up the stairs then turns down a walkway. Suddenly a man's shadow crosses a pillar in f.g. He stops behind it and watches. It's Grant, in a suit and tie.

Tania stops at a door and knocks.

AT THE DOOR

MOVE IN on the door as it opens with a creak, revealing Kleb. She wears a Russian uniform.

INT. KLEB'S ROOM - WIDE ANGLE

Tania stands on the threshold.

TANIA
Corporal of State Security Tatiana Romanova.

(matter-of-factly)
Come in.

Tania enters the room. We CRANE DOWN AND IN as Kleb shuts the door and follows her down a flight of stairs into an office. It contains a desk and a chair. Kleb sits behind the desk.

KLEB
You know who I am?
TANIA
Colonel Kleb. Head of operations for -- for SMERSH. I saw you once in Moscow when I worked for the English decoding crew.

KLEB
Did you tell anyone at the Consulate you were coming here?

TANIA
No, the message said --

KLEB
Yes, yes. I know. I sent it.

INTERCUT – TANIA AND KLEB
Tania stands watching her, uncertain.

Kleb dons a pair of black-rimmed glasses and opens a dossier on her desk.

KLEB
Your work record is excellent. The State is proud of you.

TANIA
Thank you, Comrade Colonel.

KLEB
Take off your jacket.

Tania is surprised, then unbuttons and removes her jacket.

Turn around.

Tania obediently pivots around.

KLEB
Umm. You are a fine-looking girl.

Tania glances down diffidently.

(politely) Sit down.

Tania sits in the chair and keeps looking at Kleb, who continues to scan the dossier.

KLEB
I see you trained for the ballet.
TANIA
But I grew an inch over regulation height, and so...

KLEB
And then you have had three lovers?

[Tania looks off shocked.

Did you enjoy their attention?]

TANIA
(showing her anger)
What is the purpose of such an intimate question?

Kleb explodes, cracking a short whip against her desk.

You are not here to ask questions! You forget to whom you are speaking! [Did you enjoy it?]

TANIA
(softens then smiles)
I was in love.

And if you were not in love?

TANIA
(thinks deeply, then smiles again)
I suppose that would depend... on the man.

Sensible answer.

Kleb rises from her desk.

WIDER ANGLE

We see now that Tania is sitting with her legs crossed and her skirt is raised revealing her knee.

Kleb walks to her holding a photograph, hands it to her then sits on the edge of the desk holding the whip.

This man, for instance.
I cannot tell. Perhaps if he was kind and kulturny.

Corporal...

Kleb rests a hand on Tania's knee but withdraws it at Tania's look of distaste. DOLLY IN CLOSER to them.

KLEB
...I have selected you for a most important assignment. Its purpose is to give false information to the enemy. If you complete it successfully you will be promoted. From now on you will do anything he says.

TANIA
And if I refuse?

KLEB
Then you will not leave this room alive.

Tania looks at her aghast, then regains her composure.

TANIA
I will obey your orders.

ANGLE ON KLEB

She rises from the desk, then we PAN on her as she crosses behind Tania.

KLEB
Good. Now these are your instructions. You report to me here.

TANIA
Yes.

KLEB
But the Consulate security man must not know that I am in Istanbul. This is classified far above his level.

TANIA
I will say nothing to anyone.

DOLLY OUT as Kleb steps toward her.
KLEB
If you do, you will be shot!
  the chair, then softens)
Come, come, my dear.
  (she strokes Tania's shoulder)
You are very fortunate to have been chosen for such a simple, delightful duty.
  (her hand moves up to stroke Tania's hair)
A real labour of love... as we say.

EXT. RIVER - DAY
A punt glides by with a MAN and YOUNG WOMAN inside. He is piloting.

    MAN
Great sport, this!

    YOUNG WOMAN
What did you say?

Great sport, this punting!

The punt continues off. TILT DOWN TO REVEAL another punt, resting on the shoreline beneath a tree. Inside are Bond and SYLVIA, embracing and kissing. An ice bucket and glasses are beside it.

    BOND
I couldn't agree with him more.

    SYLVIA
I might even give up golf for it.

    BOND
Really?

He tugs on a cord that extends between his toes into the water, pulling up a bottle of champagne. He touches it.

    BOND
Not quite.
He lowers the bottle again. Sylvia notices something on his back — a scar. She runs her finger across it.

SYLVIA
Ooh! Souvenir from another jealous woman?

He turns back and slips an arm around her.

BOND
Yes, but I haven't turned my back on one since.

He fully embraces her and they kiss. Suddenly a BEEPER goes off. Bond looks back, disheartened.

BOND
Excuse me.

SYLVIA
What?

He reaches into his coat pocket and switches off the device.

WIDER ANGLE
Bond climbs out of the punt with his jacket, then turns back.

BOND
Give me my shirt, will you?

SYLVIA
(tossing it to him)
What's going on?

BOND
I have to make a phone call.

PAN ON BOND as he walks to his car — a classic green convertible.

SYLVIA (O.S.)
(calling)
But we haven't eaten yet! I'm starving!

Bond opens the driver's door and picks up a phone while raising his shirt.

BOND
INT. MISS MONEYPENNY'S OFFICE - SAME TIME

She sits holding her phone and with her other hand taps a cigarette against a file on her desk.

MISS MONEYPENNY
He's been asking for you all morning. Where in the world are you, James?

[END OF REEL 2. START REEL 3.]

MEDIUM SHOT - BOND

He is in his shirt now, buttoning it.

BOND
Well, I've just been reviewing an old case.

SYLVIA
approaches in a huff. PAN ON HER as she walks to Bond.

SYLVIA
Oh, so I'm an old case now, am I?

BOND
Shh! It's the office.
(into phone)
Err... tell him I'm on my way, will you?

Sylvia snatches the phone from him.

SYLVIA
(into phone)
He is not on his way.

BOND
(taking the phone back)
Sylvia, behave! We'll do this again some other time, soon.
(he keeps buttoning his shirt)

SYLVIA
Do what? The last time you said that you went off to Jamaica.
(she undoes one of his buttons)
I haven't seen you for six months.

He slaps her hand.
BOND
(into phone)
I'll be there in an hour.

INTERCUT - MISS MONEYPENNY
She now holds a lit cigarette.

MISS MONEYPENNY
Hey, your old case sounds interesting, James.

INTERCUT - BOND AND SYLVIA
Sylvia has completely unbuttoned Bond's shirt.

BOND
Er... make that an hour and a half.

He returns the phone to its cradle as Sylvia quietly claps her hands together. Bond passes her and raises the convertible top. DOLLY IN till it conceals him and Sylvia and the screen goes black.

BOND
Now, about that lunch...

SYLVIA
(giggling)
Hmm-hmm.

FADE IN:

INT. A DOOR - MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT
The door opens to reveal Bond dressed in a suit and tie and holding his hat. As he enters, PULL BACK TO REVEAL

INT. MISS MONEYPENNY'S OFFICE
Unseen by Bond, 'M' stands with Miss Moneypenny at a filing cabinet behind the door. 'M' holds a file marked 'SECRET.' They look up.

Bond tosses his hat at a hat-rack and it lands perfectly on a hook. He turns to Miss Moneypenny and begins to close the door.

BOND
For my next miracle, I...

'M' comes into view. Bond stops cold. The others just look at him. Chagrined, Bond gently leans against the door to shut it the rest of the way — and it creaks loudly.
Wordlessly, 'M' nods to Bond to follow him. PAN ON THEM as they cross the room and pass through an open doorway into 'M's' office. BOOTHROYD ['Q'] stands just outside the office holding a briefcase and waiting. Bond closes a padded door behind them.

MISS MONEYPENNY
(to Boothroyd)
It'll be a miracle if he can explain where he's been all day.

INT. 'M's OFFICE

'M' walks toward his desk, Bond following having just closed the padded inner door.

BOND
But I've never even heard of a Tatiana Romanova.

'M'
Ridiculous, isn't it?

BOND
It's absolutely crazy.

'M'
Of course, girls do fall in love with pictures of film stars.

'M' stops behind his desk and gestures to Bond to sit.

'M' Mmm.

BOND
No, it's some sort of trap.

'M' (filling his pipe)
Well, obviously it's a trap, and the bait is a cipher machine. A brand new Lektor.

BOND
A Lektor, no less. The C.I.A.'s been after one of those for years.
over Bond's shoulder. 'M' lights his pipe and sits.

'M'
Yes. So have we. When she contacted Kerim Bey, head of Station T, Turkey, and told him she wanted to defect, she said she'd turn it over to us, on one condition: that you went out to Istanbul and brought her and the machine back to England.

(he takes a photo from the file)
Here's a snapshot Kerim managed to get of her.

takes the photo, glances at it absently, then looks up.

BOND
Well, I don't know too much about cryptography, sir, but, uh... a Lektor could decode their top secret signals. The whole thing's so fantastic, it just could be...

(he finally looks at the photo and catches himself)
...true.

shows Tania standing at a railing aboard a ship with one hand raised provocatively, holding her hair back.

'M' (O.S.)
Hmm. That had occurred to me.

continues to look at the photograph

'M' (O.S.)
Besides, the Russians haven't been up to any tricks recently.

BOND
Well, really, I'm not too busy at the moment, sir.

'M'
You're booked on the eight-thirty plane in the morning. If there's any chance of us getting a Lektor, we simply must look into it.

BOND
Suppose when she meets me in the flesh, I don't come up to expectations?

ANGLE ON 'M' over Bond's shoulder.

'M'
Just see that you do.

He presses a switch on his intercom.

'M'
Miss Moneypenny, ask the Equipment Officer to come in, please.
(he releases the switch)
Q Branch has put together a smart looking piece of luggage for us.

ANGLE ON THE PADDED DOOR

Boothroyd enters carrying the briefcase. PAN ON HIM as he walks to the desk, to include Bond and 'M'.

'M' (O.S.)
We're issuing this to all double-o personnel.

Boothroyd nods to Bond and sets the briefcase on the desk. Bond rises to face him.

BOOTHROYD
An ordinary black leather case...
(tilts it up and points to two buttons on
... with twenty rounds of ammunition here and here.

Boothroyd presses one of the buttons and a narrow tube pops up. Bond does the same to the other button and another tube pops up.
MEDIUM SHOT - BOND AND BOOTHROYD

(indicating the tube)
Now, if you take the top off, you'll find the ammunition inside.

Bond opens the top and drops a couple of bullets into his hand, then returns them to the tube. Meanwhile Boothroyd turns the briefcase the other way around.

BOOTHROYD
In the side here: flat throwing knife.

CLOSE SHOT - THE BRIEFCASE

Boothroyd's hand enters.

BOOTHROYD (O.S.)
Press that button there... (he presses a release and a knife pops out) ...out she comes.

Bond's hand enters and takes the knife.

MEDIUM SHOT - BOND AND BOOTHROYD

Boothroyd opens the briefcase and sets it down flat.

BOOTHROYD
Inside the case...

The inside is bright red and contains what looks like part of a rifle. Boothroyd's hand picks it up.

BOOTHROYD (O.S.)
...you'll find an AR Seven folding sniper's rifle. (he pulls the heel off the grip, revealing a barrel hidden inside)

Point-two-five calibre, with an infra-red telescopic sight.

He reattaches the heel and sets the rifle beside the briefcase. Then he pulls on a strap connecting the case's lid to its body. A hidden strap comes out of the inner lining and gold sovereigns are embedded in it.
Then, if you pull out these straps, inside are fifty gold sovereigns. Twenty-five in either side.

He slides the strap back into the lining.

Now watch very carefully. (he reaches down)

Boothroyd takes a tin of talcum powder from his pocket. It bears the trademark 'Club.'

An ordinary tin of talcum powder. Inside, a tear gas cartridge.

That goes in the case against the side...

Dolly in as Boothroyd's hand attaches the tin to the inside of the case.

... here, like that. It's magnetized so it won't fall.

His hands shut the case and close the catches.

Shut the case.

Now, normally to open a case like that...

Boothroyd's thumbs rest on the catches.
BOOTHROYD (O.S.)
... you move the catches to the side.
   (his thumbs move sideways without touching the catches)

Now, to stop the cartridge exploding...

MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT - THE BRIEFCASE (BOND'S POV)

Boothroyd's fingers twist the catches sideways.

... turn the catches horizontally, like that. Then open normally.

His thumbs open the catches and the briefcase pops open.

BOOTHROYD
Now you try it.

MEDIUM CLOSE-UP - 'M'

Pipe in his mouth, 'M' looks up at Bond, removes the pipe and blows out smoke.

MEDIUM TWO-SHOT - BOND AND BOOTHROYD

Bond moves behind the upright case and lays his fingers the catches.

BOND
Hmm. Turn the catches...
   (twisting them)
...like that...

BOOTHROYD
That's right.

BOND
And open ordinarily.

Bond snaps the briefcase open then grins in satisfaction.
BOOTHROYD
You've got it?

BOND
Yes, I think so.

BOOTHROYD
(to 'M', off)
Is that all, sir?

'M' (O.S.)
Yes, thanks very much.

BOOTHROYD
Right. Thank you.

Boothroyd exits as Bond closes the briefcase.

BOND
That's a nasty little Christmas present. But I shouldn't think I'll need it on this assignment, sir.

CLOSE-UP - 'M'

'M'
All the same, take it with you.

WIDE ANGLE OVER 'M's SHOULDER

'M'
Good luck, Double-o-seven.

BOND
Thank you, sir.

Bond heads for the door.

CLOSE-UP - 'M'

He returns the pipe to his mouth and looks down at the file.

INT. MISS MONEYPENNY'S OFFICE - SAME TIME

Bond enters from 'M's office flipping the padded door shut behind him. PAN WITH HIM as he walks to Miss Moneypenny's desk and sets the briefcase down.

'Once more into the breach, dear friends.'

Miss Moneypenny holds up an airline ticket.
MISS MONEYPENNY
And one plane ticket.
Bond sits on the edge of her desk and takes the ticket from her. SLOW DOLLY IN to tight two-shot as they talk.

MISS MONEYPENNY
Lucky man. I've never been to Istanbul.

BOND
You've never been to Istanbul?

MISS MONEYPENNY
No.

BOND
(leaning toward her)
Where the moonlight on the Bospherous is irresistible.

MISS MONEYPENNY
(rising and touching her forehead to his)
Maybe I should get you to take me there some day. I've tried everything else.

BOND
Darling Moneypenny, you know I never even look at another woman.

Oh, really, James?

BOND
Uh-huh. Let me tell you the secret of the world...
(he leans back to her ear)

Just then her intercom buzzes.

CLOSE SHOT - INTERCOM

Miss Moneypenny's finger switches it on. PULL BACK TO MEDIUM TWO-SHOT of Bond and Miss Moneypenny.

'M' (over intercom)
Miss Moneypenny, ask Double O Seven to leave the photograph. I'm sure he'll recognize the lady when he sees her.
Miss Moneypenny holds out her hand. Bond takes out Tania's photograph and sets it on her palm. Then he picks up a pen.

CLOSE SHOT - THE PHOTOGRAPH

Bond's hand writes the words 'WITH LOVE,' then adds above it 'FROM RUSSIA.'

MEDIUM TWO-SHOT

Bond picks up the briefcase and steps off the desk.

(watching him go)
Good luck.

(passing in front of her)
Ciao!

Ciao!

Mr. Bond!

Bond stops and looks back. The chauffeur walks to him.

CHAUFFEUR
Kerim Bey sent a car for you, sir.

BOND
Oh, fine.
(reaches into his coat and takes out a cigarette case)
Can I borrow a match?

CHAUFFEUR
I use a lighter.

BOND
(opening the case to reveal cigarettes)
It's better still.

Until they go wrong.

(shutting the case) Exactly.

Bond gestures to the chauffeur to move on.

CHAUFFEUR
I'll get the car, sir.

Fine.

Bond glances back, sees the Citreon following, then looks forward again and continues fanning his face with his hat.

INT. ROLLS - SAME TIME

BOND
I suppose it's customary to have people trailing you in these parts.

CHAUFFEUR
Oh, yes, sir. Today it's Citreon H-three-one-eighty-four on duty.

They are Bulgarians working for the Russians. They follow us, we follow them. It's a sort of understanding we have.

KERIM
Come in! Glad to see you! Welcome to Istanbul!

Kerim walks to Bond and shakes his hand, then PAN ON THEM as they walk to Kerim's desk.

BOND
Oh, thank you for sending the car, but, uh -- it does rather tie you in with me.

Bond sits in a chair across from the desk. Kerim picks up a yellow plastic cigarette holder and a wooden cigarette box.

KERIM
You are in the Balkans now, Mr. Bond. The game with the Russians is played a little differently here. In the day-to-day routine matters we don't make it too difficult to keep a tab on each other.

Kerim holds out the box to Bond.

ANGLE ON BOND

BOND
(taking a cigarette from the box)
So I gathered from your chauffeur. He's a rather intelligent young man, by the way.

Bond lights the cigarette.

steps back behind his desk.

KERIM
He should be. He's my son.
Kerim picks up a bell and rings it.

ANGLE ON BOND

He puffs on the cigarette.

The young man nods and shuts the door.

KERIM

He also is my son.

INTERCUT – BOND AND KERIM

Kerim sits at his desk, his cigarette burning in the yellow holder.

All of my key employees are my sons. Blood is the best security in this business.

BOND

You must have quite an establishment here.

KERIM

Biggest family payroll in Turkey. Not bad for a man who started life breaking chains and bending bars with his teeth in a circus. But let's talk about this business of yours.

BOND

Well, 'M' thinks I'm wasting my time here.
KERIM
And so do I.
(points to his nose)
This is an old friend of mine. And it tells me something smells.

BOND
Maybe. But if there's a chance of getting a Lektor... Now you tell me. Where can I contact this girl?

KERIM
She said she would make her own arrangements. You'll just have to wait.

A knock sounds at the door.

(rising)
Ah!

Number thirty-two.

The concierge rings a bell. A PORTER walks up and takes the suitcase from the chauffeur.

FEMALE ASSISTANT
Thirty-two for Mister Bond.

CONCIERGE
(to Bond)
Hope you enjoy your stay.

BOND
Thank you.
The chauffeur tips his hat to Bond, then Bond and the porter cross the lobby and enter a lift. The doors close.

The porter exits.

BOND
The bed's too small.

INTERCUT - FRONT DESK

RECEPTIONIST (to the concierge)
Did you hear that?

CONCIERGE
Tell him that's all there is, unless he would like the Bridal Suite.

The concierge raises the receiver to his ear.

I'm sorry, sir. That's all we have available, except the Bridal Suite.

INTERCUT - SITTING ROOM

BOND
(into phone)
Well, let's have a look at it. I may like it.

INT. GREEN CAR - DRIVING - SAME TIME

Ali Kerim Bey!

(glancing back)
Hmm?

THE MISTRESS
drops the string of pearls from her mouth.

Ali Kerim Bey.

ANGLE ON KERIM

He sits unmoved, continuing to write.

gets up, straightens her skirt, walks over to Kerim and puts her hands around him.

KERIM'S MISTRESS
You're not glad to see me this morning, sirree?

(annoyed) Overjoyed.
KERIM'S MISTRESS
I... I no longer please you?

KERIM Be still.

Giving up, he slaps the file down on his lap then sets it on a table.

(rising)
Back to the salt mines.

walks toward the bed unbuttoning his jacket. From behind, his mistress removes it. [MISTAKE: She starts further away.]

BOND
Well, who won?

KERIM
I had visitors.

CLOSER ANGLE

PAN ON KERIM as he moves the table to one side and sets it down.
KERIM
Limpet mine on the wall outside, timed to catch me at my desk. But by good fortune, I was relaxing on the settee for a few moments. The girl left in hysterics.

BOND
(grinning)
Found your technique too violent?

KERIM
I cannot understand this sudden breach of the truce. It is unlike our Russian friends to break the peace this way.

BOND
It's most inconsiderate. I think my visit might have something to do with it.

KERIM
Let's try and find out.

Kerim walks off; Bond follows.

KERIM'S SHOWROOM - SAME TIME

DOLLY BACK as Kerim leads Bond into the showroom, grabs a flashlight from the wall and goes to a door covered by a tapestry. Kerim pulls a cord, withdrawing the tapestry to reveal a door which he opens.

Quite a place you've got here.

KERIM
The Emperor Constantine built it as a reservoir sixteen hundred years ago.

Really?
KERIM
(tossing him the flashlight)
Here.

Kerim unties a boat, they get in (Bond sitting and Kerim standing), and Kerim moves them away with an oar.

KERIM
A present from your navy.

CLOSER TWO-SHOT

Kerim raises the periscope and wipes the lens with his handkerchief.

KERIM
Our friends were turned out while the Public Works Ministry conducted a survey. The story was that the heavy traffic was shaking the foundations. By the time the place was declared safe, I had this installed.

BOND
I can see everything 'M' said about you is right.

KERIM
Or, why I stay in this mad business?

BOND
Well, it could be that you find selling rugs a bore.

KERIM
My friend, you should be a mind reader.

Kerim looks into the periscope.

KERIM'S POV - A CONFERENCE ROOM

GENERAL VASSILI, KOSLOVSKI, BENZ and another MAN sit at a conference table.

Head of the table is General Vassili, Director of Military Intelligence. On his left, Koslovski, Chief of Security. Opposite him, Benz, one of his agents.

He pans the periscope to one side.

KERIM
I can't see the face of the other man -- the one the general is shouting at.
BOND AND KERIM

Kerim steps back and Bond looks through the periscope.

    BOND
    He's giving him a hell of a blowing up for something.

BOND'S POV - THE CONFERENCE ROOM

Bond pans across the room.

    KERIM (O.S.)
    It's too bad we can't hear as well

    BOND
    Tell me, does our girl Romanova ever come to this room?

    KERIM
    Sometimes with messages.

Koslovski leans back in his chair, revealing the other man.

    BOND (O.S.)
    I can see the face of the other man now.

    (exclaiming) Krilencu!

KERIM'S POV - THE CONFERENCE ROOM

vociferously.

    KERIM
    So he's back! Another Bulgarian

Looking up at them from a LOWER ANGLE

Just the man for that limpet mine job. I have had trouble with him before. But he's stayed away from Istanbul for over a year now. Take a look — you should remember him. This man kills for pleasure.

Bond looks through the periscope.

Krilencu is still talking, then suddenly stops and looks at the door which is opening.

BOND (O.S.)
Nice face. -- Just a moment...

A smart-looking pair of female legs enter -- Tania.

BOND (O.S.)
A girl's just come in.

KERIM
Probably Romanova. She's the only one who's allowed to. How does she look to you?

The periscope pivots, following Tania's legs.

BOND (O.S.)
Well, from this angle, things are shaping up nicely. I'd like to see her in the flesh. Yes.

Bond backs away from the periscope.

BOND
Could you get me a plan of that place?

KERIM
I wish I could.
BOND
But there must be the original architect's drawings registered somewhere.

KERIM
I'll get onto that.
(lowers the periscope)
Now, I need a little time to deal with this stinking Krilencu. It will be better if you didn't stay at the hotel tonight. Come.

PAN ON THEM as Kerim walks off, Bond following.

BOND
I see now why you keep the Rolls.

KERIM
One of my sons is driving it, with two dummies in the back... in the opposite direction. They'll follow it for hours. You'll like my Gypsy friends. I use them like the Russians use the Bulgars. I'm afraid it's created a blood feud between them.

THE STATION WAGON - DAY FOR NIGHT

CLOSER ANGLE - BOND AND KERIM

    KERIM
    It seems we have come on the wrong night. Two girls in love with the same man have threatened to kill each other. It must be settled in the Gypsy way. As I am an old friend of the family, I think we'll be allowed to stay.

A GYPSY GIRL steps toward them speaking in Romany and gesturing forward.

Hello?... Uh, breakfast for one at nine, please... Green figs,

Mine call me James Bond.

He places the gun in his other hand and shakes her hand.
BOND
Well, now that we've been properly introduced...

Bond moves toward her holding the gun. She pushes it away.

TANIA
Careful. Guns upset me.

He sits on the edge of the bed and sets the revolver on the nightstand.

BOND
I'm sorry. I'm a bit, eh... upset myself.

Oh, you don't think this kulturny?

BOND
Well, I'll tell you something kulturny.] You're one of the most beautiful girls I've ever seen.

TANIA

What?

BOND

(brushes his lips against hers)

The decoding machine -- the Lektor.

TANIA

(kissing him)

Must we talk about it now?

BOND

Or is it at the Russian Consulate?

They kiss again, lingering.

TANIA

Umm... yes.

BOND

Yes.

(he leans back)

I would need a plan of the place.

If you could get one, we can meet at the Saint Sofia Mosque, like we were tourists.

TANIA

(leaning forward)

Why don't you ask me that... later?
She embraces him, then runs a finger down his back until it touches the scar.

    BOND (O.S.)
    Now what are you looking for?

INTERCUT - BOND AND TANIA

    TANIA
    The scar. You see, I know all about you... from your file.

GUIDE
We are now approaching the most interesting corner of Saint Sofia... including these two great red porphyry columns stolen and brought from Egypt.

Tania enters through a side door. Bond enters behind the sightseers. He wears sunglasses and carries a bag. As they walk away he turns to one side.

GUIDE (O.S.)
In front of them, alabaster urn was brought from Bergama, a famous historical city near Smyrna. It dates back from the Alexander the Great period.

Bond stops beside a towering column.

Hesitantly, Tania walks closer. She stops and pulls her hair back from her eyes and looks at him. Bond takes off his sunglasses and looks back. Tania looks back.

Bond gestures with the sunglasses for Tania to move off.

GUIDE (O.S.)
About sixteen forty-eight, Sultan Murad the Fourth brought it from Bergama. It was used as an ablution fountain. It contains a thousand litres of water. Right after the ablution fountain we are going to a highly interesting column over there...

Tania moves off and Bond does the same.

We CONTINUE WITH BOND as he passes more columns then reaches the base of a huge pillar-complex. Right ahead he sees Hassan, looking around the far end of the complex. Bond darts forward to conceal himself against it.

Bond looks back, looks in Hassan's direction, looks back again.

HAHSSAN

His hand starts to pick up the compact at the base of the pillar.

Suddenly ANOTHER MAN enters. His foot smashes down onto the hand holding the compact and he bashes Hassan's neck with two Karate chops. Hassan drops to the floor dead, the compact in his hand.

BOND

I promise you it wasn't one of my men who killed him.

BOND

Well, he didn't die of old age. All I know is that it saved me a job.

(removes the hand-drawn map)

Once he'd seen the girl, she was obviously compromised and so...

KERIM

(indicating the compact)

And he wasn't killed because of that!

BOND

Let's just say that Istanbul's a rough town.
DOLLY IN as Bond sets down the compact, approaches Kerim and unfolds the hand-drawn map.

TILT UP to TWO-SHOT of Bond and Kerim.

BOND
Now, she says she works there with the Lektor every day between two and three.

KERIM
How is she going to get the machine over to us?

BOND
Well, she's leaving that to me. She'll do anything I say.

Kerim laughs. DOLLY BACK as he picks up the architect's drawing and sits on the edge of his desk in f.g.

KERIM
Anything? My dear James, you are not using this. (taps his head) It all sounds too easy to me. (starts folding the drawing) We don't even know if she's telling the truth.

BOND
Well, I intend to find out.

KERIM
Where? In the hotel?
No, she won't go there again. Says it's too dangerous.

The old game! Give a wolf a taste then keep him hungry. My friend, she's got you dangling.

That doesn't matter. All I want is that Lektor.

All?
(looks back at Bond)
Are you sure that's all you want?

Well...

They both grin, then Kerim laughs then Bond laughs.

Tania rounds a corner of the deck ahead of him. She wears sunglasses, a scarf and long coat.

Bond looks at her. She looks back. He approaches her but stops short, turning to the railing and opening his camera case. Tania walks up beside him.

TWO-SHOT - BOND AND TANIA

Bond winds the camera.

Lovely view.

James, we must leave here now. If that agent reports my seeing you...
BOND
Don't worry. He won't.

TANIA
But you don't understand — it's a danger.

Bond looks at her unconcerned.

He steps back and aims the camera at her.

James, look...

BOND Smile!

He presses a button, then gestures to her to move back as a MAN walks past them.

BOND
Another one. Further back.

DOLLY IN as they move to a corner of the deck and the man walks off.

INTERCUT CLOSE-UPS – BOND AND TANIA

BOND
About the machine...

TANIA
That's all you're interested in. Not me.

BOND
Business first.

TANIA
I know. Once you have got what you want...

BOND
I haven't got it yet. But if you tell me about the machine, well... afterwards we won't always be working on the company's time.

TANIA.
All right. What do you want to know?

Bond glances around then lowers the front flap of the camera case, revealing a tape recorder.
BOND
Talk into this. Answer my questions quietly but clearly.

BOND
How long is the machine?

TANIA
Like... like a typewriter.

BOND Weight?

TANIA
About ten kilos. In a brown case. Brown like your eyes.

BOND
Keep it technical. Self-calibrating or manual?

TANIA
Both. With an in-built compensator. James, couldn't we...?

BOND
Not now. Talk into the camera. How many keys?

TANIA
Symbol or code keys?

BOND
Both.

Bond and Tania's voices come through the speakers:
TANIA'S VOICE
There are twenty-four symbols, sixteen code keys. It is inserted in a slot. And the message comes out on a paper roll from another slot on the other side. And the mechanism is... oh, James... James... will you make love to me all the time in England?

BOND'S VOICE
Day and night. Go on about the mechanism.

TANIA'S VOICE
Oh, yes, the mechanism. Once when it was being repaired I saw the inside. There were many perforated discs made, I think, of copper, with a small light...

ANGLE ON 'M' AND MISS MONEYPENNY

TANIA'S VOICE
Dooshka, tell me the truth. Am I as exciting as all those Western girls?

Miss Moneypenny blinks, then breaks into a cryptic grin.

BOND'S VOICE
Oh, once when I was with 'M' in Tokyo, we had an interesting experience.

'M' shuts off the machine.

'M'
Thank you, Miss Moneypenny. That's all, that's all.

She gets up and exits past the men. We hear a door close, then 'M' re-starts the tape recorder.

BOND'S VOICE
Later, later.

IN MISS MONEYPENNY'S OFFICE - SAME TIME

Miss Moneypenny flips on her intercom and sits down at her desk. She hears the tape playing in the other room.

BOND'S VOICE
Those copper discs, are they light?
TANIA'S VOICE
Of course. Light, light. James, come closer. I want to whisper something.

BOND'S VOICE
Go on with what you were telling me... No, not that! The mechanism!

'M'S VOICE (OVER INTERCOM)

Kerim opens a connecting door to the other compartment, revealing Bond and Tania. Kerim hands Bond two passports.

KERIM
Your passports. The pictures do not do you justice. I have rarely seen a handsomer couple.

Kerim turns down the corridor. Bond stops in the doorway.

Tania?

Yes?

Keep the door locked. I'll knock three times.

Okay.

He shuts the door and she locks it.

Bond looks out the window. Kerim takes out his yellow cigarette holder and his cigarette case.

I'll go see the conductor now.

You sure he'll cooperate?
KERIM
Oh, we've done business before.
He'll stop the train near the Bulgarian frontier where my sons will be waiting with a car. We'll be there... about six o'clock.

A WOMAN IN A SCARF turns into the corridor and walks toward them.

BOND
And the airstrip?

KERIM
Twenty miles.

Bond and Kerim pause and back up. She walks between them and

He holds up her black ribbon and puts it around her neck.

BOND
Your trousseau!
TANIA
(holding the ribbon)
Oh, James!

BOND
(holding up a finger)
Ah, one moment.

He backs away raising his jacket cuffs then holds up his hands as if to say there's nothing there, then he disappears behind the door to the other compartment.

Tania looks on in puzzlement.

Suddenly the door is kicked open revealing Bond holding up a blue negligee.

TANIA
Oh, no! James, James!
/she hugs him, then glances down surprised/
Oh, look! Look!

She kneels in amazement to a suitcase and looks through the clothes in it.

It's up that end.

BOND
Fine, we'll meet you there at six o'clock then.

KERIM
Make it just a little later. But there are slight complications.
(he turns and looks up the hall)
One of the Russian security men, Benz -- he watches the airports and the stations -- he's on the train.

BOND
But he couldn't have had time to contact the Consulate before he boarded.

KERIM
Well, just in case, I'll keep him company for the next two hours until it's time to get off.

KERIM
Now I'm sure Commissar Benz will have a much safer journey.

Bond pivots Benz forward.

BOND
I'm not mad about his tailor. Are you?

Bond shoves him and he drops back onto the couch.

KERIM
You know, James, life in Istanbul will never be the same without you.

BOND
I'll see you in the restaurant car.

Bond walks off. TILT DOWN with Kerim as he sits beside Benz and starts to raise his yellow cigarette holder.

Do you like it?

She walks toward the couch. Bond follows.

BOND
Yes. It does rather suit you.

TANIA
I will save everything else for England.

BOND
Uh, it is four o'clock, you know.

TANIA
It is not kulturny in the afternoon?
(Bond looks at her)
Even on a honeymoon?
(Bond keeps looking)
Than I will take it off.

She steps forward out of frame removing a strap as Bond watches.

BOND
I think we are talking at cross-purposes again. [A couple of hours will straighten that out.

Well, it's, uh... it's tea time.

We'll have it in here. We'll have all our meals here.

Yeah, that would be splendid. But I've arranged to meet Kerim in the restaurant car.

Mmm, you go alone. I will stay here.

Bond takes her cigarette, rises and walks to the window which is covered with the blind.

My dear Mrs. Somerset, we're supposed to be a respectable English couple.

(he pulls on the blind)

We would certainly have tea in the restaurant car —

The blind rolls up with a loud snap that startles Bond. Tania walks up to him.

Now, listen...

(kisses her)

Just do as I say, will you?
TANIA
Yes, James.

He picks up his tie and passes her, smacking her bottom.

TANIA
But there are some English customs...

Liar!

He slaps her face and she flies back, landing on the couch.

TANIA

Bond goes to her.

BOND

He looks at Tania for approval. She shrugs.

      BOND
      And for madam.
      (to Grant, off)
      What about you, Nash?

ANGLE ON GRANT

      GRANT
      Yes. That sounds very nice. Make that three of those, will you?

WIDER ANGLE - THE TABLE

      BOND
      I'll have a bottle of the Blanc de Blanc.

      GRANT
      Make mine Chianti.

      WAITER
      White Chianti, monsieur?

      GRANT
      Uh, no. The red kind.

Bond, unfolding his napkin, glances up at Grant. The waiter walks away.
GRANT
Well, enjoy your dinner, old man. I think I've got the answer to our problems. Very simple, really.

BOND Good.

CUT TO:

EXT. TRAIN - NIGHT

The train races by.

DILSSOLVE TO:

INT. RESTAURANT CAR - AT THE TABLE - LATER

Bond, Tania and Grant are eating dinner. In front of Bond and Tania are glasses of white wine and a wine bottle. In front of Grant is a glass of red wine, the bottle nearby.

GRANT
(glancing at his watch)
We should reach the border in about an hour.

CLOSE SHOT - GRANT'S HAND

reaches for the salt but knocks over Tania's wine glass.

THREE-SHOT

GRANT
Oh, I'm terribly sorry, Misses Somerset. Most clumsy of me.

Grant dabs the spot with his napkin.

(calling) Waiter?!

WAITER (O.S.)
Oui, monsieur?

Grant picks up the wine bottle and Tania's glass, then glances sharply back.

GRANT
Waiter?!

WAITER (O.S.)
Tout suite, monsieur!
CLOSE SHOT - GRANT'S HAND
refills the glass and at the same time drops a white pill into it.

OVER GRANT'S SHOULDER
Bond eats as Grant sets down the wine bottle and glass.

WIDER ANGLE - THE TABLE
The waiter picks up something.

WAITER
Excuse me. Merci.

He walks away.

GRANT
You'll, uh... you'll find Trieste quite interesting. Of course, it's not London.

Grant lets out a little laugh and picks up his glass.

GRANT Cheerio!

Bond raises his glass.

BOND
Cheerio.

They toast each other, Grant letting out another little laugh, and they drink.

MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT - TANIA absently picks up her glass, looks off at Bond then sips.

DISSOLVE TO:

INT. CORRIDOR - NIGHT
Bond walks down the corridor carrying the Lektor, opens the [unlocked] door to Tania's compartment and goes in. She follows, tipping from one wall to the other.

TANIA
I don't feel very well. My head!

Grant holds her from behind. Bond looks out from the compartment.
GRANT
The lady's come over faint.

BOND
Bring her in here.

GRANT May I?

He guides Tania to the doorway. Bond backs up and Grant walks her inside.

IN TANIA'S COMPARTMENT

Bond takes her and lies her down on the couch. She moans.

BOND
(to Grant)
Let's go next door.

He opens the door to his compartment.

GRANT
(looking at Tania)
Exhaustion, I'd say.

Hmm.

Grant steps into Bond's compartment. Bond turns off the light in Tania's compartment then follows Grant, closing the door behind him.

IN BOND'S COMPARTMENT

Bond locks the door and turns his back on Grant.

BOND
What was it — the stuff you put in her drink?

GRANT
Chloral-hydrate. Quick but mild.

Bond takes out his pistol and turns, aiming it at Grant.

BOND And?

GRANT
(raising his arms)
Take it easy, o-o-seven.

Bond glares at him.
GRANT
My escape route's only for one.
(smiles slightly)
What are you after, the girl or the Lektor?

BOND
(relenting, stops aiming at Grant)
All right. What is your plan?

GRANT
Explain it better on a map.
(gestures with one hand to his pocket)
All right?

Grant takes a map from his pocket, sits on the couch and opens the map on Nash's briefcase. Bond puts his pistol in his pocket and looks down. Grant points to the map with both index fingers.

GRANT
Now, we're here, you see?

Bond crouches beside him.

GRANT
When we reach there, there's a steep gradient. The train slows down there.

ANGLE ON THE MAP
Grant's left hand continues pointing to the map as his right hand comes down to his leg.

GRANT (O.S.)
We'll block the line. Make for that main road.

GRANT
Pick up a car... there.

GRANT'S RIGHT HAND
goes to his ankle. He takes a pistol from a holster under his pant leg.

GRANT (O.S.)
A truck, in fact.
BOND (O.S.)

BOND
... twenty miles from here.

Grant suddenly slams the butt of his pistol against the base of Bond's skull. Bond groans and drops to the floor.

Grant jumps up.

Bond rolls across the floor.

LOW ANGLE - BOND AND GRANT

Bond lies on his side in f.g. Grant kicks his leg to see if he'll react.

Then Grant reaches down, rolls Bond onto his back, puts his pistol to Bond's temple, takes Bond's gun from his shoulder holster and slips into his pocket. He feels Bond's legs for more weapons, then takes his cigarette case.

ANGLE ON BOND

Grant opens the cigarette case, sees only cigarettes, and slips it into his pocket. He takes cash from Bond's inside pocket. Bond starts to raise his hand. Grant slaps it down.

LOW ANGLE

Grant pockets the money, then takes Bond's silencer from another pocket and rises aiming his gun at Bond.

INTERCUT - BOND AND GRANT

Struggling, Bond sits up.

GRANT Keep still!

Bond looks back.

GRANT
All right, get up on your knees.

Bond rises to his knees.

GRANT
Put your hands in your pockets. Keep 'em there.

Grant sits on the couch, still aiming his gun at Bond.
BOND
(kneeling with his hands in his pockets)
Red wine with fish. That should have told me something.

GRANT
(slips the silencer into his pocket and rests his free arm on his knee)
You may know the right wines, but you're the one on your knees. How does it feel, old man?

BOND
'Old man'? Is that what you chaps in SMERSH call each other?

SMERSH?

BOND
(looks up with realization)
Of course! SPECTRE! Then it wasn't a Russian show at all. You've been playing us off against each other, haven't you?

Grant stares back at him.

BOND
Then it was SPECTRE who killed the Russian agent in the mosque. You?

GRANT
Um-hmm.

BOND
Kerim and the other man?

GRANT
Um-hmm.

BOND And Nash?

GRANT
Well, I don't mind talking. I get a kick out of watching the great James Bond find out what a bloody fool he's been making of himself.

He takes Bond's gun from his pocket, sets it on the couch, then takes out the silencer.
GRANT
We're pros, Mister Bond.

He attaches the silencer to Bond's gun.

GRANT
We sweated your recognition code out of one of your men in Tokyo — before he died. I've been keeping tabs on you. I've been your guardian angel. I saved your life at the Gypsy camp.

BOND
Oh, yes. I am much obliged.

GRANT
We were keeping you alive till you could get us the Lektor.

BOND
So you had me deliver it on a plate. It's brilliant. Go on, I'm fascinated.

GRANT
Now that we've got it, you and the girl are expendable. Between here and Trieste.

He picks up Bond's gun with his left hand and aims it at him.

BOND
The girl? Isn't she working for SPECTRE, too?

GRANT
No. She thinks she's doing it all for Mother Russia. She takes her orders from Colonel Kleb.

BOND
Well, Rosa Kleb's Russian. Head of operations for SMERSH.

GRANT
Was. Kleb works for SPECTRE now. The girl doesn't know that.

BOND
Well then, why kill her?

GRANT Orders.
Grant slips his own gun into his pocket then reaches into another pocket.

GRANT
That's only half of it, old man.

Bond stares at him. Grant takes out a roll of 8mm movie film.

GRANT
Here's a roll of film. She'll have this in her handbag.

He tosses the film onto the couch and takes an envelope from his pocket.

GRANT
And on you... they'll find this letter. It's from her. Threatening to give the film to the press unless you marry her for helping you get the Lektor.

He sets the letter down.

BOND
What film?

GRANT
Taken in the bridal suite at your hotel. Something else the girl didn't know about. Or you. (he snickers)
[What a performance!]

BOND
Must be a pretty sick collection of minds to dream up a plan like that.

GRANT
Can't you see the headlines? 'British agent murders beautiful Russian spy, then commits suicide'?

BOND
Tell me. Which lunatic asylum did they get you out of?

GRANT
Don't make it tougher on yourself.

DOLLY BACK as Grant walks over to Bond and slaps his face hard.
GRANT
My orders are to kill you and deliver the Lektor. How I do it is my business. It'll be slow and painful.

BOND
How much are they paying you?

GRANT
What's it to you?

BOND
We'll double it.

GRANT
Your word of honour? As an English gentlemen?

Bond just stares at him. Grant glances down, smirks as if thinking, then looks at Bond again.

GRANT
The first one won't kill you. Nor the second. Not even the third.
Not till you crawl over here and you kiss my foot!

BOND
How about a cigarette?

GRANT
Not a chance.

BOND
I'll pay for it.

What with?

GRANT
Fifty gold sovereigns.

BOND
Where are they?

GRANT
Up there, in my case.

Grant glances up at the luggage rack. Bond watches him.

Grant switches the gun to his right hand and takes the
He tosses the briefcase onto the couch. It lands on top of Nash's. Bond takes his hands from his pockets and raises the case. Grant watches.

BOND

Here you are. What about that cigarette?

REVERSE ANGLE - OVER BOND'S SHOULDER AT GRANT

GRANT

Throw 'em down there.

Bond tosses the straps onto the couch.

GRANT

Any more in the other case?

Grant in f.g. continues pulling on the glove [onto his right hand as he holds Bond's gun with his left]. Bond stares at him.

BOND

I should imagine so. It's a standard kit.

He sets Nash's case aside and turns his own case to face him.

BOND

I'll have a look.

ANGLE ON GRANT - OVER BOND'S SHOULDER

Grant finishes pulling the glove onto his right hand. His left hand is also gloved.

GRANT

Put your hands back in your pockets!

obeys and returns his hands to his pockets.

Keep them there.

Yes, we're here. Near Istria.

MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT - BLOFELD'S CAT

He strokes it.

BLOFELD (O.S.)
Three men were found dead on the train at Trieste. One of them was Grant.

PULL BACK to reveal:

INT. BLOFELD'S CABIN ON HIS YACHT - DAY

Blofeld swivels forward to face Kleb and Kronsteen.
BLOFELD
What do you have to say, Number Five?

KRONSTEEN
He was Kleb's choice. Her people failed.

KLEB
(to Kronsteen)
It was your plan! They followed it implicitly.

KRONSTEEN
Impossible. It was perfect.

KLEB
Except for one thing. They were dealing with Bond!

KRONSTEEN
Who is Bond... compared to Kronsteen?

Blofeld continues stroking his cat.

BLOFELD (O.S.)
Exactly. What have you to say to that, Number Three?

Kleb looks at him fearfully.

Blofeld presses a white button on his desk.

Morzeny enters through the doorway behind them. DOLLY IN as he approaches the desk.

Bond is still alive and the Lektor is not yet in our possession. I have already negotiated with the Russians to return it to them. We've agreed a price. And SPECTRE always delivers what it promises. Our whole organization depends on our keeping those promises.

Morzeny quietly puts his feet together and a knife shoots out of the toe of one of his boots.

(still stroking his cat)
I warned you. We do not tolerate failure, Number Three.
Kronsteen looks smugly at Kleb. Kleb sweats profusely.

BLOFELD (O.S.)
You know the penalty?

KLEB
Yes, Number One.

The boot with the knife leans back, preparing to strike.

BLOFELD (O.S.)
Our rules are very simple.

BLOFELD (O.S.)
If you fail...

Kronsteen rises, a look of total incomprehension on his face. He starts to fall then braces himself against the edge of Blofeld's desk. DOLLY BACK. Kronsteen shakes his head at Blofeld in disbelief and slowly sinks to the floor.

BLOFELD
Twelve seconds. One day we must invent a faster working venom. -- Number Three.

(snapping to attention)
Yes, sir.

BLOFELD (O.S.)
I do not wish to have to tell the Russians that there will be another delay.

KLEB
There will be no delay, Number One. There's still time.

EXT. GULF OF VENICE - LONG SHOT - DAY

Bond's boat races across the water in the distance, leaving a white wake.
IN THE BOAT

Tania licks her finger and holds it to the wind. Bond, steering, smiles at her.

TANIA
Which way are we going?

BOND
The shortest route.
Which is between those two mountains...

He points to mountains looming up ahead.

BOND
... and straight along the coast.

They look peacefully into the distance.

Suddenly a motorboat rounds a point in front of them, heading for them.

spins the wheel, turning back in the direction they came from, throwing a wide wash behind. They race ahead at full throttle.

They hear Morzeny's voice calling through a megaphone:

MORZENY (filtered)
Ahoy, Mister Bond!

Tania looks back.

THE MOTORBOAT races to catch up.

MORZENY (filtered)
Ahoy, Mister Bond!

CLOSER SHOT - THE MOTORBOAT

Morzeny holds the megaphone and stands beside the PILOT; TWO SPECTRE MEN sit behind him.

MORZENY (filtered)
(to Bond)
Heave to! Heave to!
BOND

glances back then puts on even more speed.

Suddenly he sees another motorboat up ahead round a point and race at him, then another.

He swerves to avoid them, completing another half arc.

MORZENY (filtered)
You're trapped, Mister Bond!
You're trapped! You cannot escape!
You cannot escape!

WIDE ANGLE - THE SEA

Bond's boat speeds ahead, leaving a wide wake, with three motorboats racing after it. ZOOM BACK to an even wider angle.

MORZENY'S BOAT

speeds forward. One of his men kneels on the bow aiming a machine gun. Morzeny barks orders into the megaphone:

MORZENY (filtered)
Rifle grenade, prepare to fire!

ANGLE OVER MORZENY

The other two boats are right ahead, chasing Bond's boat in b.g. On each bow a man crouches with a machine gun.

MORZENY (filtered)
We're coming through! Pull over, SPECTRE Green!
(lowers the megaphone and waves)
Get out of the way!

His boat passes between the other two.

MORZENY
(to a man behind him)
Give them a warning shot!

The man behind him fires a rifle grenade.

ANGLE ON BOND'S BOAT

An explosion occurs just behind it.

ON MORZENY'S BOAT

A man on that boat fires a rifle grenade.

REVERSE ANGLE ON BOND'S BOAT
An explosion occurs right in front of it.

MORZENY (O.S., filtered)
SPECTRE Red, SPECTRE Green, you're firing too close!

ON BOND'S BOAT
Tania looks back. An explosion occurs right behind her. The three SPECTRE boats follow in b.g.
MORZENY'S BOAT

Morzeny continues on the megaphone.

    MORZENY (filtered)
    (to the others)
        sink them!

ON BOND'S BOAT

Bond glances back. Machine-gun fire and another explosion erupt behind him. Tania ducks and looks back.

comes right at them, the man on the bow firing his machine gun.

ON BOND'S BOAT

Bond glances back at the fuel drum. Bullets puncture each of them and fuel pours out. Bond keeps looking. More fuel.

He touches Tania's arm.

    BOND
        Here, take the wheel!

Tania takes the wheel. Bond turns, unties the drums and pushes three of them off the boat. They splash into the water. PAN BACK to show the drums floating between Bond's boat and the others.

MORZENY

raises a pair of binoculars. He sees the drums in the water.

[END OF REEL 12. START REEL 13.]

    (to skipper)
        Slow down!

The three boats pass one of the fuel drums. ZOOM BACK to a wide angle.

    MORZENY
        Slow down all boats! Green, go alongside, while we keep you covered.
BOND'S BOAT

Bond rolls the last fuel drum off the boat. It splashes into the water. Bond starts to reach down.

MORZENY (O.S.)
Hands up, Mister Bond!

Bond raises his hands as Tania looks back.

TANIA
Why are you giving up? Without those drums the boat must be lighter. We can go faster.

BOND
Hand me that Very Pistol.

MORZENY'S BOAT

He calls to Bond through the megaphone.

MORZENY
Keep your hands up, Mr. Bond. We're sending a boat along to take you off.

  Green, change your course!

  (screaming) Ahhh!

- His boat explodes.

ON A HOTEL BALCONY

Tania sits in a chair. A champagne bottle and glasses are on the table beside her, and Bond stands lighting her cigarette. DOLLY IN. Bond wears a shirt and tie but no jacket. He kisses the back of her neck.

A phone rings inside.

    BOND
    Don't go away.

He goes into their room. PAN on him through the window as he walks to the phone.

INT. SALON - SAME TIME

Bond picks up the phone.

    BOND
    (into phone)
    Yes?... Oh, thanks. Tell him to wait, will you? And, uh, send up a porter for the luggage... Thank you.

A knock sounds at the door.

    BOND
    (calling back in Italian) Avanti!

The door to the suite opens and Kleb enters dressed as a chambermaid.

    KLEB
    (in Italian)
    Permesso, signor. (By your leave, sir.)

    BOND
    (in Italian)
    Si, prego. (Yes, please.)

Kleb shuts the door and walks off.

    BOND
    (into phone)
    And also, uh, get me the British Consul... Thank you.
He replaces the receiver. PAN on him as he walks to a table where the Lektor sits and shuts the case. Kleb, behind him, is dusting a couch.

Bond picks up his shoulder holster, which hung over a chair at the table, and walks into the bedroom putting it on.

DOLLY IN on Kleb. She walks to the table and picks up the Lektor.

The phone suddenly rings again. She sets the Lektor down and takes an ashtray from the table.

BOND emerges from the bedroom. PAN on him as he grabs his coat from the chair, passes Kleb holding the ashtray, goes to the phone putting his coat on and picks up the phone.

BOND
Yes?... Oh, Mister Maxwell, please... James Bond.

TANIA enters the salon, holding a green coat over her shoulder.

TANIA
James, we will miss the plane and we will...

She freezes, seeing Kleb.

KLEB looks at Tania and puts a finger to her lips, shushing her.

TANIA
DOLLY IN on her as she mouths the words, "Rosa Kleb."

BOND (O.S.)

Hello, Paul. Bond here. Just to tell you we're off in a few minutes and I want to thank you for everything. And signal the office we are on our way back, will you?

ANGLE ON BOND

Tania stands in b.g. near the door. Kleb, holding a suitcase, picks up the Lektor from the table and turns toward the door.
BOND
(continuing)
... What was that?
(he sees Kleb and points)
Here, leave that! I'll take it.

Kleb sets the Lektor down.

listens on the phone and laughs.

BOND
What?... Oh, no. It should be routine from here on in. Y'know, so many times--

MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT - KLEB

Hello!
Bond puts the phone down.

makes an upward gesture with the gun.

looks at her in chagrin then glances down.

KLEB (O.S.)
Romanova!

WIDER ANGLE
Bond stands in f.g. with his arms raised as Tania and Kleb stand in b.g.

KLEB (yelling now)

Her arms fly up.

BOND
backs away and sets the chair down. DOLLY BACK as Tania walks up to him still holding the gun and looking at Kleb. She rubs Bond's shoulders. He takes the gun from her.

TANIA
Horrible woman.

BOND
Yes.
   (he rubs his eyes)
She's had her kicks.

TANIA
Here you are, in case you ever need it again.

BOND
Oh, yes. All government property has to be accounted for.
   (slips the ring into his pocket)
But as I said before: 'We won't always be working on the company's time,' will we?

TANIA
No.

They kiss, Bond squeezing Tania's shoulder.

He was right, you know. [What a performance!]

The reel lands in the water.
